ALEXANDRIA, VA., THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 28, 1906.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request. Write for it at once. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents, and he went to great expense both in time and money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are used in the treatment of liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Hotel, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Famous Dinners Recalled.

In the traditions of gay life in New York there is no incident more picturesque nor better remembered than that of "The Girl in the Pie."

A banquet was in progress in James Breese's studio. The studio was a synonym of luxury. The entertainments given there were Lucullan in character, and a truthful description of them would read like a chapter from "Quo Vadis."

In this instance the host had surpassed all his former munificent hospitality.

The "little spread," as Mr. Breese chose to designate it, cost $350 a plate.

Artists, architects and men about town, with several women of the "fashionable" stratum of the underworld, were his guests.

There had been much drinking and little eating, toasts brilliant but requiring expurgation for family use, and the hour was tearing dawn.

The guests were trying politely to repress signs of weariness, when the host served his piece de resistance.

Four negroes entered, carrying a huge pie, around which were grouped wax candles of every shade. The negroes retired. The banqueters looked on in amazed silence.

Beneath the crust, in the middle of the table, there was a faint stir, as if from some living thing. At a sign from Mr. Breese the orchestra, concealed by palms, swung into the strains of the old nursery dingle:

"Four and twenty blackbirds baked in a pie."

Simultaneously the stir beneath the crust increased. It was burst by a movement from beneath, and there rose a slim figure, half child, half woman, who turned a pretty infantile face upon the diners, and stood poised, in her black wrappings, as a bird about to fly, while 24 golden canaries, that had been imprisoned in cages with her, released by her hand, flew about in every direction.

One of the men sitting at the end of the table rose and pressed his way to the middle. He laughingly lifted the girl from the table to the floor. He was Stanford White.

The girl was Susie Johnson, a child model. She then was 15 years old. Immediately after the dinner she disappeared. Her mother sought the aid of the police and the press to find the girl, but they were unsuccessful.

For three years she remained in hiding. When she was found she told a revolting story of mistreatment and desertion by the man whom Nemesis overtook in the midst of lights and music and laughter on Monday night.

"I was lifted from the pie to a seat at the table and found myself the queen of the revel," she said. "It was dazzling for a little while, but in the end it proved a sad quondam."

"Mr. White was kind for a short time, but he went to Europe, and when he returned and I tried to see him he was never in. He had instructed his clerks to get rid of me with as little trouble as possible. I never saw him again."

By a strange coincidence Susie Johnson married, and when her husband learned of the "girl in the pie" dinner he brooded over the episode in his wife's life until he almost became insane. It ended, not in Harry Thaw's way, but by his desertion of her.

Stanford White was known as the originator of at least one of the most daring dinners ever carried through in Philadelphia about six months ago in a resort on Girard avenue, which has since been closed. He stated that he had introduced to Philadelphia the latest novelty in the English fast set, the "strip-jack dinner."

As nearly as could be made out by White's rambling description the dinner was attended by about 10 girls and five or six men. Before the dinner games calling for forfeits were played, and each forfeit called for the removal of some small articles of clothing, so that by the time the dinner began the girls' toilettes were in a disturbed condition. Then at the dinner the further requirement was made for the removal of one article of attire for each course served with a prize of large value offered for the one whose clothing longest survived the stripping test.

Ruined by Standard Oil.

Lawrence S. Nicolai, a bankrupt oil merchant of Washington, in an examination before a referee in bankruptcy in that city Tuesday, testified that in 1895 a contract was made between the Standard Oil Company and his brother and himself, operating in the oil business under the firm name of Nicolai Bros., if they would abandon their business. Previous to this time for 10 years the firm had successfully conducted its business in opposition to the Standard Oil Company. The amount agreed on, Mr. Nicolai said, was paid annually for 10 years, or until January, 1905, when, in the words of the witness, "Standard Oil turned me down and refused to renew

Long Tennessee Fight.

For twenty years W. L. Rawls, of Belts, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes: "The swelling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Bucklen's Arnica Salve to the nose surface; this caused the soreness and swelling to disappear, never to return." Best salve in existence. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists.

Making It Easy and Safe.

This is the easiest store in Alexandria to get money back from in case you want it. In some Washington stores, as you doubtless know, the policy is to discourage exchanges and refunds. They all advertise money back if you want it, but you have to want it pretty badly to get it; badly enough to go through a great deal of red tape and bother. Not here. We pride ourselves on making it easy for you. We ask no questions, make no comments. It is done as a matter of your right, not as a favor.

Corsets.

We only keep the best such as W. B., C. B., a la Spiritie and American Lady. Is there a woman who does not know these famous makes?

SPECIAL.

As long as the lot lasts 115 White Lawn Shirt Waists at 95c. There is not a waist in the lot that is not worth $1.50 and more. They will not last long!
